

If you have been sexually assaulted and are unsure about telling police, you can report anonymously.

Alternative Reporting Options (ARO) provide a way to report to police without taking part in an investigation or court process.

To find out more, visit the Queensland Police Service website and search 'ARO' or scan the QR code.

